

ISA Web Server Hosting Permission Agreement

_____ Division
(Name)

The above named Division has permission to use the ISA Web server as a host for Division web pages on the following conditions:

The Division understands that ISA provides its Web server as a carrier only and not a publisher of the Division's web content. The Division is solely responsible for the content and will include a disclaimer on its home page so stating. The Division is expected to maintain its own content. The Division will identify on each page the name of the Division member responsible for maintaining the content and to whom inquiries should be directed.

The Division will be provided password to upload Web pages directly onto the server and will not reveal the password to anyone not authorized to upload the Division's content.

The Division will access only those directories or areas for which this permission was granted.

The Division will upload only material directly relevant to the official ISA Division activity for which this permission was granted and that, to the best of knowledge, is not copyrighted by others, is not defamatory in nature, and contains no viruses.

The Division understands that these conditions are designed for the protection of ISA and ISA members.
