Setting the Standard for Automation™

How to get the most out of your Division Membership

The Management Division (also known as MAN) is organized within the Automation and Technology Department of ISA. The goal of the Management Division is to support ISA membership from all industry segments who are involved (or have an interest) in management as it relates to instrumentation, systems and automation assets to help its members compete more effectively both professionally and personally in today's global marketplace.

MAN membership aligns your personal interests with your professional goals. It provides a wealth of industry knowledge at your fingertips, keeping you on the cutting edge of technology and developments. You now have the opportunity to share your experiences as well as the chance to learn from your peers.

As a MAN Member there are numerous professional opportunities that include:

- Networking. Involvement in an International Management Board that includes industry experts.
- Students. Enhancing the growth of ISA through our Student membership sponsorship program.
- Mentoring. Helping others develop their management skills by sharing your knowledge and experience with other members currently in management or individuals preparing for a future management role.

- Leadership. The opportunity to sharpen your leadership skills by helping to plan the annual Marketing and Sales Summit.

In addition to the above, ISA recognized MAN as the 2006 Most Improved Division and 2007 Communications Award which was based on its Member's contributions.

Membership provides:

- Two to three comprehensive management industry newsletters per year.
- Access to the MAN website that provides industry technical papers, web seminars, and a list serve of industry peers.
