About the conference

This year's Leak Detection And Repair (LDAR) Training and Symposium will highlight topics impacting the LDAR community for years to come. With the EPA having now finalized the Alternative Work Practice for Optical Imaging Cameras, there are questions being asked from every angle. At the Symposium, you will hear from the EPA, consultants, and end users on this and other issues of great interest. Consent Decrees are still of high concern, especially as they begin affecting the chemical processing industry. You will also hear fresh perspectives on ways to improve/optimize LDAR programs. With all the changes now taking place, how will you know what will save your company money or blow the budget? ISA's 9th Fugitive Emissions LDAR Symposium is the only place to find out!
